

LEADER OF BANDIT GANG ADMITS PART

James Woods Second of Five Robbers Perpetrating Chicago Robbery Captured Alive

TWO ARE SHOT TO DEATH

Clerk at Fashionable Drake Hotel Where Gun Battle Was Staged, Killed By Bullet

By EDWARD C. DEER
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
Chicago, July 30—James Woods, leader of the five desperadoes that yesterday afternoon perpetrated Chicago's most spectacular robbery and gun battle, was taken into custody today and confessed.

Woods was arrested when he walked into a hospital and asked to be treated for bullet wounds. He was the second to be captured alive. Two were shot to death by policemen and one is still at large.

Frank Blair Rodkey, a clerk in the fashionable Drake hotel where the robbery was staged, was killed by a bullet wound in the stomach.

Hotel officials today estimated the loot at between $7,000 and $10,000. Police have recovered part of it.

Working with express speed, the county grand jury met in extraordinary session today and returned true bills charging Wilson, alias Woods and Holmes, both of Texas, and Mullenbach of New York with murder in connection with the raid. They are charged with the murder of Frank B. Rodkey, clerk at the hotel.

Mullenbach is still at large, while Wilson and Holmes, have confessed to participating in the robbery.

Witnesses told the grand jury that Holmes fired the fatal shots and not Tet "Texas Kid" Cat, full blooded Cherokee Indian.

Two Texas cowboys, one of them a full-blooded Cherokee Indian, swaggering about with drunken bravado; three Chicago bad men brandishing pistols and shotguns; women knocked down and fainting; wealthy hotel guests running for cover; policemen firing at the fleeing bandits; an automobile chase through seven miles of congested traffic—these were the incidents related to police today by witnesses to the holdup and series of gun battles.

The Drake hotel is known as one of Chicago's largest and most exclusive hostilities. It is situated on a commanding site overlooking Lake Michigan and at a prominent corner on Michigan Avenue. Hundreds of guests, many of them millionaires and their families, from all parts of the world were about the lobbies and in their rooms when the roar of pistols was heard.

SLOW SPEED OF CAR PREVENTS FATAL MISHAP

Sabert Offutt Drives in Path of I. & C. Interurban But Escapes Without Scratch

ACCIDENT IN ARLINGTON

Sabert Offutt of Arlington, drove his automobile in the path of an approaching Indianapolis and Cincinnati traction car at noon today at the cement street crossing in Arlington, and the fact that the car was slowing down to stop at the station, probably prevented a fatal accident.

The car was going east, and Mr. Offutt was driving his machine west on the street back of the traction station, and going toward the car. He turned to look back of him before turning his machine south on the cement street, but failed to look in the direction that he was going, and headed into the path of the traction car, it was said.

His automobile was pushed forward about 40 feet, according to witnesses. The machine was an Overland, slip on track body. The two front wheels were smashed and the car was damaged otherwise. Mr. Offutt escaped without a scratch.

The pilot of the traction car was broken, and had to be removed before the car left Arlington. The traction car is due in Rushville from Indianapolis at 11:52 and was about 20 minutes late in arriving here.

HEADQUARTERS IN COURTHOUSE

Plans Made for Volunteers of America Tag Day Saturday

Headquarters for the Volunteers of America Tag Day will be established Saturday at the court house assembly room and Mrs. Frank P. Mullins will be in charge. The Tag Day was arranged by Mrs. P. O. Johns, a general representative of the organization, and a number of local children have been invited to assist, with prizes being offered all who help make the Tag Day a success.

The proceeds will be used by the Volunteers of America in the work of providing homes for discharged and paroled prisoners, their maintenance until employment is found and in caring for destitute families of prisoners. During the last three years over 15,000 men have obtained positions, it is stated, and over 100,000 have been assisted through the Hope Halls. One hundred seventy thousand children have been helped to future good citizenship through 70 homes for children.

NO OSTENTATION AT BRYAN FUNERAL

Widow Insists That no Military Pomp Attend the Last Rites of The Commoner

BODY REACHES WASHINGTON

Only Display of Military Forces For Apostle of Peace Will be Sounding of Taps

Washington, July 30—(U. P.)—Mrs. Bryan today insisted that no military pomp attend the funeral services of her husband. Under arrangements this morning, the only display of military forces for the apostle of peace will be the sounding of taps at the grave. No volley will be fired as is customary upon such occasions.

Only a small delegation of troops from Fort Meyer will meet the body at the entrance to the cemetery and escort it to the grave. Then only a band will play.

Surrounded by loving members of his family, William Jennings Bryan returned to Washington today on his last pilgrimage to the grave.

The funeral train which bore him from the Tennessee mountain village where he died drew into the Union Station at 7:40 a. m.

The journey's end wrote off the last triumphal march of the Commoner, as remarkable in its tributes to the fallen leader as ever he received when he sought the popular favor in the vigor of his prime.

Approximately 1,000 people crowded the vast concourse of the station to bid the body hail and farewell. A large detail of police patrolled the station and a mounted squadron kept the exit clear for the movement of the body.

The funeral party was met by an informal reception committee, including Ben G. Davis, former secretary to the Commoner, Charles Cook, representing, unofficially, the state department, which Bryan headed for two years. Representative William C. Upshaw of Georgia, and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McBride, close friends of the Bryans.

Mrs. Bryan left the train and proceeded to her hotel before the body was borne from the funeral car. She was carried to the rear platform, placed in a wheel chair, and raised to the main level of the station in an elevator. She was accompanied by her friends.

The body was not removed until all the passengers from the train to which the funeral car was attached had been cleared from the platform. Scores of floral pieces, enough to fill a separate hearse, were removed (Continued on Page Eight)

Large Crowd Expected for Annual County Meeting of Christian Churches

SERMONS BY REV. W. H. BOOK

All of the seventeen congregations of the Disciples of Christ are expected to be represented here next Sunday when the annual county all-day meeting is held at Memorial park. There are approximately 2,500 members of this faith in the county.

The sermons during the day, at 11 a. m. and 2 and 7:30 p. m., will be delivered by the Rev. W. H. Book, pastor of the Tabernacle Christian church of Columbus, Ind., who is one of the most noted Disciples ministers in the state, and he likewise has a wide reputation as an eloquent speaker outside the state.

The Rev. Mr. Book has been pastor of the Tabernacle church for twenty-five years. He is one of the most popular speakers who ever addressed the Sunday afternoon men's meetings at the English theatre in Indianapolis.

Sunday school will be held at the customary time by all of the congregations, and the morning services will not begin until 11 o'clock to enable all of the outlying church representatives to reach Rushville. Communion services will be held at the morning hour. Special music will be provided by the churches of the county, assisted by the choir of the Main Street church.

A picnic in dinner will be served at noon in the park. The evening service will follow the union plan that is observed in Rushville during the summer.

SIXTY-FOUR BOYS AND GIRLS APPLY

Walker Township Leads in Enrollment For Tri-County Camp at Walnut Grove Aug. 17-21

INTEREST GROWING DAILY

Parents and Club Leaders are Planning to Spend Some Time at Camp to Enjoy Programs

Sixty-four Rush county boys and girls have made application with the county agent for the tri-county club camp to be held at Walnut Grove in Shelby county, August 17 to 21. It was announced today, with Walker township leading in the number enrolled.

Interest in the camp is growing daily, it is stated. An attempt is being made to make the group of one hundred boys and girls that will attend from Rush county, just as representative as possible. However, it is pointed out, the tendency is for more interest among clubs to be shown in townships where six or more have decided to take advantage of the opportunities the camp affords.

The camp at Walnut Grove affords an ideal location. Already parents in two of the townships have decided to take their picnic dinners and visit with the boys and girls one day while in camp. The girls' club leaders are planning to visit the camp on Thursday, August 20, as special attention will be given that day to "Community Organization Problems."

There is an ideal place at Walnut Grove for swimming, it is announced. However, no boy or girl in the camp will be permitted to swim without the written consent of their parents. Last year many of the parents did not sign the permit until after they had visited the camp, and when they viewed the bathing beach and the precautions taken each afternoon to protect the campers, they regreted that their children had been denied the privilege.

The program for the camp will be as follows:

6:00 a. m.—Bugle
6:15 a. m.—Flag raising
6:30 a. m.—Setting Up Exercises
7:00 a. m.—Breakfast, Yells and Songs
7:45 a. m.—Bunk Inspection
8:00 a. m.—Instruction: Nature Study; Agriculture; Home Economics; 4-H Development; Health Standard Club Plans.

PROSECUTION READY FOR TRIAL IN REASONABLE TIME

Will Try Stephenson or Any Combination of Trio That Includes Him, Remy Says

OLD ARGUMENT REOPENED

Indianapolis, Ind., July 30—(U. P.)—The state is ready to go to trial at any time with the case of D. C. Stephenson, Earl Klenck and Earl Gentry, charged with murder for the death of Miss Madge Oberholtzer, Prosecutor Remy announced today.

"We will go to trial upon reasonable notice so that we can get our witnesses together upon any combination of the defendants that includes Stephenson," Remy said.

Defense attorneys, with the gateway for an immediate trial opened to them through action of Judge Hines in Hamilton county court yesterday, conferred today on whether to take advantage of the opportunity.

Judge Hines overruled a petition for rehearing of the bail petition for the three men, who have been in jail since April 24, but announced he would call a special session of court for immediate trial if the defense desired it.

Remy's demand that Stephenson be included in the first trial if the defendants are to face the jury in separate trials opens the way for renewal of the fight over the order in which the three men shall be tried.

ENTHUSIASM HIGH AT CARTHAGE MEET

Rushville Boosters Received Most Heartily at Ripley Township Farm Bureau Session

ADDRESS BY GIBSON WILSON

Readings, Solos, Duets and Quartet Numbers Form Program That Wins Long Applause

One of the most, if not the most, enthusiastic meeting of the series of monthly farm bureau sessions which have been attended by the Rushville Boosters Club was held Wednesday night at Carthage and the program given by the Rushville boosters was most heartily received.

The delegation from Rushville, numbering more than fifty, was the largest that has ever attended the farm bureau meetings this month, the last of which will be visited tonight at Raleigh. After tonight, the Rushville club will have been represented by a delegation at all twelve of the farm bureau meetings this month.

The Rev. Gibson Wilson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city, made an inspiring address on community building at the Carthage meeting, which was held in the school house. Mrs. Ruth Keena of this city outlined the program for the annual Rush county chautauqua, August 9 to 16, which the boosters have been boosting at all of the township meetings.

The address by the Rev. Mr. Wilson was given the closest attention as he outlined the means by which communities, through cooperation and honest effort of their citizens, could grow and enlarge their usefulness.

The program by the boosters' entertainers was equally well received and following the program, the farm bureau served refreshments to the crowd of more than 200 present.

Noah Leisure, the township chairman, opened the meeting and presided until the farm bureau business was transacted, after which Dr. J. B. Kinsinger, president of the Rush County Chautauqua association, took charge and introduced the Rushville entertainers and speakers.

The community singing under the leadership of Omer Trusler, as usual, was a very happy feature of the meeting, and the selections by the boosters' male quartet were given a big ovation, which has been the custom since.

HOME ECONOMICS TEACHER ENGAGED

Miss Esther M. Smith of Huntington Will Succeed Miss Ruth Grishaw in High School Here

LATTER GOES TO INDIANAPOLIS

New Instructor Has Taught in Grades, High School, College and Has Practical Experience

Miss Esther M. Smith of Huntington, Ind., has signed a contract to become instructor in home economics in the local high school in place of Miss Ruth Grishaw, who has resigned in order to accept a position in Indianapolis, according to H. B. Allman, superintendent of the city schools. Miss Smith is in this city at present consulting with Miss Grishaw concerning the work.

Miss Smith is a graduate of Rock Creek high school in Huntington County and after attending Huntington college for three summers, went to Indiana University at Bloomington, where she was graduated. She has been instructor at Bippus, Indiana, in the grades and has taught in her line of work at Huntington college and also in the high school at Bloomington. She also worked for two years in the University cafeteria at Bloomington and afterwards became assistant manager at that place.

Miss Smith spent a short time with the Royal Baking Powder company as a demonstrator and was in West Virginia and Pennsylvania last year doing work for the company.

Miss Grishaw, who was home economics instructor in the school last year and who has been at the head of summer classes since June, will become an instructor in sewing in the seventh and eighth grades in Indianapolis this winter. She instructed six clubs, including approximately ninety girls in various phases of home economics this summer and has met with excellent success. Wednesday some of the work of her students in cooking, which has been one of the most emphasized this year, was displayed in the show window at H. A. Kramer's meat market and tomorrow a sewing display will be seen in the window of Wyatt's furniture store. During the entire summer each of the six clubs has met once a week with Miss Grishaw.

Improvements in the equipment in the department in the local high school will be made, according to Mr. Allman, and Miss Smith is completing details and will be ready to take up her work in the department with the opening of school, the second week in September.

The other day a good, reliable farmer told me of his experience with a cream separator salesman who told him that the DeLaval was not as good as it was ten years ago.

I have an old DeLaval Separator I sold Mr. Seth Moor ten years ago. It was replaced last week with a new one. I wish anyone contemplating buying a new cream separator would come in and compare this old separator with the New DeLaval.

The DeLaval today is the same DeLaval it always was, only some very good improvements—Longer self oiling upper bearing; larger bottom bushing; bronze liners in crank shaft which was not at all in the old DeLaval; a bowl holder for tightening bowl nut; improved bottom on base and other small improvements. But the big improvement is the bowl that does the skimming. It is now self-balancing; only about two-thirds as many discs, heavier discs and all alike—Not like ten years ago. The new bowl now clarifies as it separates and is much easier cleaned.

Now it would seem unreasonable for the DeLaval Separator Co. to make a separator today that was not as good and sell as many as they do. I have already sold this year more DeLaval's than any whole year since 1918.

Set a New DeLaval in your home and compare it with any other separator. Let me take a DeLaval apart and show you the working parts. See for yourself how easy it is.

DISEASED CATTLE ARE FARM MENACE

How a Cow May Transmit Disease to Man, Hogs to Swine, Lambs to Sheep

TESTING IS SAFEST WAY

Hogs Allowed to Run on Same Land With an Infected Cow Soon Spread the Disease

The tuberculous cow is not only a menace to other cattle on the same farm but is also the commonest source of infection to swine, a statement from the county agent's office says. Milk is a good medium for the development of tubercle bacilli and swine seem to be extremely susceptible to tuberculosis. Consequently one tuberculous animal that is passing the germs in the milk secretions may give the disease to any or all the animals to which any of the milk is fed. Investigations made by the U. S. department of agriculture show that where tuberculosis exists among cattle and swine kept on the same farm, some of the hogs are infected.

Another common practice of feeding, especially in the corn belt states, is to allow hogs to run with cattle in the feed lots or pastures. If the cattle are tuberculous and the feces contain the germs of the disease, in all probability the swine will contract the disease. Swine may contract the disease by eating parts of the carcasses of infected cattle, swine or poultry.

Other sources of contamination are infected spurs from human beings and the feeding of uncooked garbage containing the germs of tuberculosis. Tuberculous swine, like diseased cattle may also infect one another.

Cattle owners who are not sure of their herd should employ a competent veterinarian to make the test. One infected cow may infect 60 percent of a herd within the next twelve months.

If you find a reactor, test again in three months and thus eliminate the "spreader" or tuberculous cow from your herd and pastures as soon as possible it is urged upon farmers.

U. S. department of agriculture estimates that these infected cows cost the cattle owners $40,000,000 in the United States last year.

Don't Be a Grouch

Everyone hates a chronic grouch, a person that has a flaw to pick with everything that is said or done. People finally become so disgusted with that sort of person that they will try to avoid them whenever it is possible.

It's hard to be cheerful when the old bus constantly goes wrong with you. It casts a shadow over your pleasure and soon you become a grouch, too.

LEADER OF BANDIT GANG ADMITS PART

Tools and shot guns broke loose.

State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, who has assumed personal leadership of the prosecution of the captured bandits, said the holdup was without an equal in daring in Chicago's history. All of the bandits had been drinking heavily and one of them admitted his nerve while intoxicated led him to go against his judgment.

The holdup combined the element of wild west daring and the cunning of Chicago's gangsters. "Tex" Court, the Cherokee Indian and Joe Holmes, a cowboy from X-K ranch, near Sweetwater, Tex., came to Chicago and planned the robbery with Woods, Eric Nelson, and another "bad man."

Court was slain by a policeman's bullet just as he was fleeing. He fell along the curbstone of Lake Shore drive, which borders the lake.

Holmes was beaten into insensibility and captured in the hotel kitchen as he tried to escape. Only the fact that his gun jammed prevented the wounding and possible killing of the two officers that trapped him.

Nelson was killed in the basement of a house seven miles away after a mad automobile chase along Sheridan road and North Clark street, scores of traffic policemen along the route commanding machines and joining in the pursuit.

Woods was captured this morning without offering any resistance when he appeared at a hospital and asked for medical treatment.

The fifth gunman has not been apprehended. Police of Chicago and all surrounding towns have been ordered to search for him.

Rodkey was shot down by Court in the hotel offices. Witnesses said Rodkey had offered no resistance and was shot simply because Court had been enraged by the fact a girl slammed a door in his face.

The swash-buckling bandits swaggered into the hotel from the North Side, passed the Italian room which swarmed with fashionable gowned women taking afternoon tea, and turned into a spacious promenade the Avenue of Palms. In a narrow passageway adjoining they found the wickets of the cashier and paymaster.

Court, soggy with wine, thrust his gun through the Cherokee, and was beyond all reason by this time.

James McMurdie, house detective, summoned by the screams of Miss Blanchard, opened his door, and blazed away as Court, Nelson and the two others went out. One bullet buried itself in Court's shoulder. One of the bandits fired back at him.

Then, four of the bandits fled down the Mezzanine corridor and out onto the drive.

Holmes had meantime taken flight down the back stairs to go out through the kitchen. He forced several attaches out of his way but one rushed into the street and halted two policemen. As he was struggling with two kitchen helpers the officers entered and took a flying leap at him. One of them brought the butt of his gun down on Holmes' head. He was unconscious for two hours afterwards.

Court, when he hit the open air, fired his pistol at random. Two officers gave chase and closed in on him. Officer Hannigan drew his revolver and dropped the mad-man in his tracks. He died on his way to the hospital.

Nelson and his two robber companions ran for the stolen automobile they had hidden down the street and roared off down the drive. Circling the hotel, they headed north through Lincoln Park, swerving and crashing past signal lights. Hundreds of cars were forced to take to the curb as the bandit car gathered speed.

A mile and a half north they crashed into an automobile. Two of the men, one of whom later proved to be Woods, disappeared, and Nelson, with the bag containing part of the money, commandeered a taxicab containing a woman.

Pressing his revolver to the driver's neck, Nelson ordered the driver to continue north. At the same time he knocked the woman to the floor of the cab.

SWINE JUDGES TO MEET ON AUGUST 4, AT PURDUE

Meeting Affords Excellent Opportunity for Those Interested in Judging to Get Ideas

CERTIFICATES TO BE AWARDED

The 37th annual meeting of the Indiana Association of Swine Judges will be held at the Purdue University Livestock Judging Pavilion at Lafayette, Indiana, Tuesday, August 4 at 9:30 a. m.

Plans are being made by the officers of the association to make this the best meeting the association has held in recent years. There will be less scoring of individual hogs and more comparative judging. The plans contemplate classes for judging work in all the leading breeds of swine in the state.

This meeting affords an excellent opportunity for those interested in judging hogs to meet others who are doing the same kind of work and compare notes on type and confirmation. It also offers an opportunity to beginners to get the ideas of leading breeders and judges on swine type.

Certificates of judging ability will be awarded to those who make a high standing in the work. Most of the good swine judges in Indiana today hold certificates from the Indiana Association of Swine Judges. Fred Youkey of Thorntown is president of this association and J. B. Wiley, of Lafayette Secretary treasurer. The committee of license awarding judges is composed of E. J. Barker, Indianapolis, Levi P. Moore of Rochester and Oscar Siess of Tipton.

Police had started pursuit at the Drake, and gathered forces as every crossing was passed.

Policemen Charles Kiefer commanded a car and was one of the leaders in the chase. Seven miles north Nelson leaped out and ran into an apartment house basement. Kiefer followed and dropped Nelson with a bullet through the head.

Hundreds of policemen and detectives hunted the city for "Con" Mullenbach, 24, alias Mallory, the fifth member of the bandit gang. Woods said he knew the man as "Mellenchuck," Chief of Police Collins said he was confident the man is in hiding in the city, and a watch was placed on all railroad stations and automobile roads.

Collins believes two others acted as lookouts for the five, and questioned the two prisoners in an effort to secure their identity.

BIBLE THOUGHT
—FOR TODAY—
"Thoughts which will give a new meaning to your life."Humility of Christ:—Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus, Let nothing be done through strife or vainglory but in lowliness of mind let each esteem others better than themselves. Philippians 2:5, 3.Prayer:—We are thankful, O dear Lord, for the perfect life of Jesus. May it be our daily ambition to grow into His likeness.

A Challenge to Parents

A challenge has been issued to the parents of the United States by the bureau of education, which says that about half of the four million children who enter the first grade in the elementary schools each year fail to reach the second grade.This represents an enormous waste in education from a financial standpoint because the cost of educating a child amounts on the average of $75 a year.It also means a useless waste of time for a child to spend two years where one year should suffice.The solution lies in the hands of parents. How well they will meet the challenge remains to be seen.In the majority of cases, failure of children to make passing grades the first year, investigation has shown, is due to physical and mental defects.The appeal, then, is to parents to have children as near perfect as possible, physically and mentally, before entering school for the first time in September.It is a problem that should command the serious consideration of every parent and school teacher.

Placing the Blame

A juvenile court judge says that nineteen out of every twenty boys who "go wrong" come from homes where the mothers are forced to work.A leader in the General Federation of Women's Clubs asserts that the blame for the immorality among youth of today belongs on the older generation.A minister of the gospel declares that "spiritual illiteracy," the disappearance of the family altar, is responsible for young people being on the moral down grade.Whatever may be the cause, it is not difficult to find people in all walks of life who believe that young people do not have as high moral standards as once prevailed.

If it be true, it is an alarming state of affairs which needs to be corrected, else the United States will in time perish from the earth.The present generation may not suffer, but it should have enough interest in the tomorrow of its own progeny to make some effort to raise the moral plane of youth.

Moderation Brings Returns

It is a recognized fact that moderate surtaxes would be more productive of revenue than the present schedules. Productive business is discouraged by exorbitant surtax-es and capital is driven into tax-exempt bonds.There was a time when the small taxpayer did not understand that the general prosperity of the country was diminished by imposition of these excessive surtaxes, and welcomed a stiff levy on incomes in the higher brackets. The average citizen is now better informed and knows that general business conditions are not improved by driving productive business into tax-exempt securities.When capital is kept out of productive enterprise by excessive taxation, this unnatural diversion yields no revenue to the government and is costly to industry. A man is not interested in risking his money and energy in an enterprise where, if he wins, the government takes a great part of the profits in taxes, and if he loses he stands the whole of the loss. Initiative and new ventures are penalized by such a policy.FIFTEEN YEARS

WASHINGTON—Is it possible that the world with such a deluge government bills and bank notes presently will cease to be worth anything?It seems like a large order.

ATHLETICS SURVIVE THE SECOND SLUMP

Moving Away From Washington Senators With Enough Steam to Pull Them Through

SERIES IN PHILADELPHIA

Appears Now That Senators Have Cracked, With Pitching Staff
Gone to Pieces

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, July 30—Many smart baseball men favored the champion Washington Senators in a battle with the Philadelphia Athletics because of the youth of Connie Mack's aspiring team.

It was figured that in a hot pennant race, which may extend to the very last day of the season, the experience of the veteran players on the Washington club would keep them on the ground and that the Athletics would be in danger of blowing up.

Twice this season the young Athletics were so close to the exploding point that the critics warned "there they go. Didn't I tell you."

But they didn't go. On each occasion they recovered just as they were going down and came back with a rush.

They are just now out of their second serious slump and they are moving away from the Washington champions with so much steam that there are distinct whispers about a world's series in Philadelphia. There have been world's series games before in Philadelphia—many of them, and experienced fans know that it is not wise to claim the pennant until it can be worked out with pencil and paper.

It looks now as if the Senators have cracked. The pitching has gone to pieces momentarily and if Roger Peckinpaugh's legs do not hold up the club hasn't much of a chance to nose out Connie Mack's boys.

Theorists held the same youth versus experience view in the National League where the young Pittsburgh Pirates are going strong.

At the present time it looks as if the Giants would blow and the Pirates keep the ground. The Pirates may have done all their blowing in the first few weeks of the season when they were looking up at seven clubs from the cellar.

Dempsey Sincere

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, July 30—Some suspicion has arisen as a result of the sudden desire of Jack Dempsey for action. Some of the boys who have chronic suspicions about every one, question the purpose of the heavy-weight champion in demanding some fights. They think the belligerent mood which he has assumed is for the purpose of boosting his latest picture which hasn't been released yet because of a decline of Dempsey popularity on the public market.

The real purpose of the sudden notion Dempsey has taken to defend his title is just as uncertain as it was the day he stepped to the altar with Estelle Taylor, the day that was generally thought to have been the turning point in his career.

Dempsey gave plenty of reasons to believe that he never would fight again and that he would withhold the announcement of his retirement until he had capitalized to the limit on his title.

Now he is giving just as many reasons to believe that he is serious in his intention to return to the ring.

The champion never has been one to engage in loose talk. If Jack Kearns had been doing the recent talking about all the fights that Dempsey wants there would be reasons to believe that inspired publicity was behind the conversation.

When Dempsey tells you he is going to fight this year, you get the idea somehow that he means just what he says. He hasn't the art of Jack Kearns in giving you a yes when he means no.

As far as his wife is concerned, it is quite apparent that she hasn't any objection to Dempsey's profession or if she doesn't want him to fight again that she has set no order against it. Dempsey, from all appearances, is still his own boss and more of his own boss than ever since he fell out with Jack Kearns.

There is an angle, however, to the complicated situation that concerns Dempsey. One of the many stories, told with some degree of reliability, is that she and Kearns had a disagreement when Dempsey was courting her after she had heard some remarks that had been made about her. After they were married she is supposed to have told her husband that if he ever fought again she wanted Kearns to get very little out of it.

Kearns and Dempsey were generally believed to have worked for years on a verbal agreement that gave them a fifty-fifty split of all their earnings.

There is a rule of the New York Boxing Commission providing that a signed contract of a manager with his boxer must be filed with the commission before the manager can do business for his boxer in New York. Previous to the Dempsey-Firpo fight, Kearns applied for a manager's license and the application was accompanied by a contract showing that Kearns was to get one-third of Dempsey's purses until September, 1926.

The insistence with which Dempsey is demanding that his fight with Harry Wills, which would mean at the least a half-million dollars to Dempsey, be deferred until the fall of 1926, gives reason for the belief that Dempsey wants to be his own manager for that fight and get the full value of the purse.

KEEPING ONE EYE ON THE SCORE BOARD

Yesterday's Hero—Ernie Johnson, substitute shortstop for the Yankees, delivered a home run in the twelfth inning and defeated the Browns, 8 to 7.

Thirteen Tigers were left stranded on the bases when Slim Harris tightened in the pinche and the Athletics copped again, 10 to 2.

Seven runs on a rally in the fifth inning gave the Pirates an 8 to 6 victory over the Braves.

Four runs scored in the eighth off Red Faber enabled the Senators to beat the White Sox 8 to 6.

The Robins got 15 hits off Bill Shandell but they lost to the Cardinals 10 to 3. Shandell was the eighth southpaw in a row to pitch against the Robins.

Miller was effective in the pinches and got a single and a triple, helping the Indians beat Boston 10 to 5.

TAIL LIGHTS WILL GO TO SHELBYVILLE SUNDAY

Rushville Baseball Club Hopes to Give Good Account of Itself Against Strong Team.

SHELBYVILLE GOING GOOD

With a record of four straight victories over some of the strongest teams of Central Indiana, the Shelbyville Tail Lights will go to Shelbyville Sunday for a battle with the strong city team of that place.

Shelbyville has built up quite a reputation and it will be quite a step for the local team to return winner over them. The Shelbyville team includes such players as "Punk" Lambert, a left hander who holds down first sack. Lambert is a steel worker from Anderson and besides playing a whale of a game at first is a terrific slugger with the bat. Lady as Catcher and Redman as pitcher are the Shelbyville batteries. Redman has won from Rushville regularly with one exception. Paul Lottstetter, the Franklin high school coach, plays center field and is one of the best men in the state on defense.

The local team has been looking forward to this game and have been preparing themselves to give a good account of themselves. A good crowd is expected to accompany the team.

Gabby Hartnett hit his 23rd homer of the season and helped the Cubs to beat the Giants 4 to 2.

The Reds knocked Carlson out of the box and beat the Phillies, 9 to 5.

Cincinnati—in beating the Phillies Wednesday, 9 to 5 Pete Donohue scored his twentieth straight victory for Cincinnati over Philadelphia. He has not lost to the Phillies since August 27, 1921, and all told has won 22 and lost 2 to that club since becoming a Red in midseason of 1921.

SHANK REGISTERS A "KICK"

Complains About Enforcement of Wright "Bone Dry" Law
Indianapolis, July 30—Mayor Shank today attacked the clause of the Wright "bone dry" prohibition law, relative to seizure of liquor in private homes and expressed the opinion that it was unconstitutional.
"The law never intended that police should invade a man's home, turn the beds upside down and embarrass his family," Shank said in discussing the dry law enforcement in Indianapolis.
"Unless a man is known as a violator, his premises should never be entered. My opinion is that the people will never stand for terrorism of this nature."
Mayor Shank said he was "getting mighty tired of the howls of the reformers and kickers about Indianapolis."

HONOR GUARD OF LEGIONNAIRES

Honor guard named by George Rappleyea, Post Commander of the American Legion at Dayton, Tenn. The veterans stood guard day and night at the door of the Rogers home, where Bryan's body lay in Dayton.

PICTURES SHOW FIRST VIEWS OF BRYAN'S
FUNERAL SERVICES HELD AT DAYTON, TENN.

His Death

NO OSTENTATION
AT BRYAN FUNERAL

Continued from Page One with the coffin. Some were enormous. One, from the Knoxville Tenn. chamber of commerce, bore a quotation of Bryan's "I Have Enough Religion to Live By and Die By."
Mrs. Bryan showed plainly the effect of her sorrow. Her face was pale and lined. She wore deep mourning.

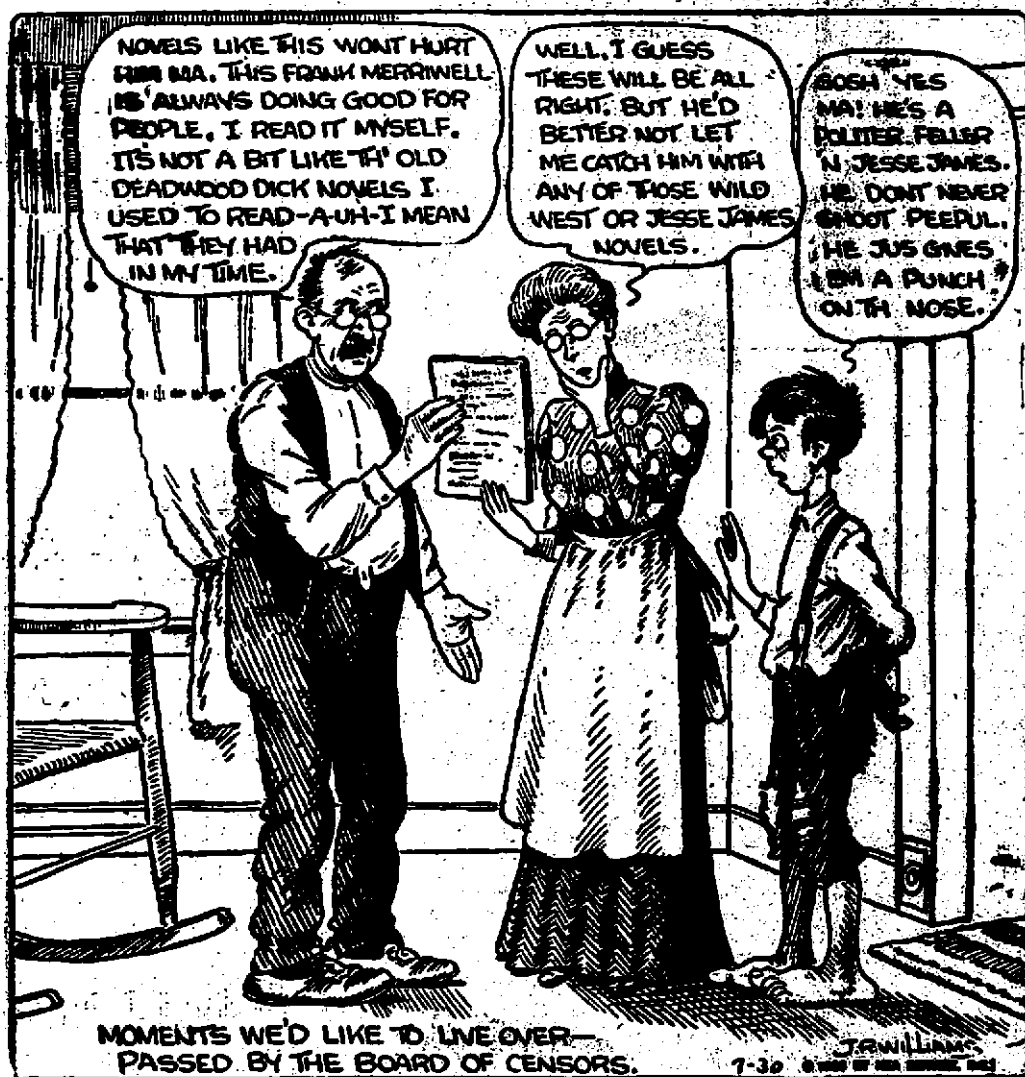

There was no ostentation in the funeral line of three automobiles that accompanied the hearse down through the streets to the funeral parlor. Government clerks hastening to their desks paused to bow their heads or lift their hats for a moment while it passed.
One motorcycle policeman led the hearse. The three trailing autos were filled with newspapermen. After a brief time at the funeral parlors the body will be taken to the New York Avenue Presbyterian church, an edifice where presidents and many dignitaries of state have worshipped.

Governor Charles W. Bryan arrived this morning and conferred with Mrs. Bryan at the hotel concerning funeral arrangements.

None of the Bryan family friends went to the funeral parlors. The casket was opened there and final preparations made to place the body in state at the church at which the funeral services will be held tomorrow.
The trip from Dayton, scene of Bryan's battle for religious, to Washington, the goal of his hopes, occupied just 24 hours. Thousands of persons in towns along the route besieged the train.
Mrs. Bryan herself has not yet seen the body. She told friends who accompanied her that she did not think she could bear to look upon her husband's features in death. Later, perhaps, before the body is taken to Arlington Cemetery tomorrow for burial among the nation's warriors, she will have a final glimpse in the casket.

HELPED THROUGH CHANGE OF LIFE

Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during This Critical Time—Benefited Greatly

Baltimore, Maryland.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to help me through the Change of Life and for a broken-down system. I had been complaining a long time and dragging along had tried other medicines which did not help me much. I read in the newspapers of the Vegetable Compound and after taking a bottle I felt better. I did not stop with one bottle, but took it through the whole critical time and am now practically a well woman. I have two daughters whose health was very bad before they married and I was worried about them. I got the Vegetable Compound for them and it helped them, and after they married it also helped them in bearing their babies. This is a great and good medicine for all complaints of women, and I recommend it to all."—Mrs. L. GINGRICH, 1375 N. Gilman St., Baltimore, Maryland.
The Vegetable Compound is a dependable medicine for women of middle age. Let it relieve you of nervousness, that feeling of strain and those annoying hot flashes so common at this time.

All of which assures you of a reliable machine when you buy a Used Car of us. If a used car does not come up to our standards, we tear it down and sell it as used parts.
